CITY NEWS.

CHILD POISONED BY A NEGRO.—A case of poisoning occurred in the lower part of the city about two weeks since, which resulted in the death of a very sprightly and intelligent little child. As near as the facts of the case are we have been able to learn, it appears that Mr. Willis Levi, who is well known in this city, and who lives just below the lower city graveyard, had a cook, in his family named Caroline, a contraband from Tennessee. Mr. Levi being on the river at the time, there were no persons on the river house with the exception of his wife and little child. A battery was on dress parade in the commons near the house, and Mrs. L. went out to witness their evolutions, and while she was gone the negro went to Mr. Levi's trunk and took out some arsenic which had been used for killing rats. Mrs. Levi returned and saw the trunk in disorder, but suspected nothing. Next morning at breakfast, the mother, not feeling well, did not partake of coffee, but gave orders for the negro to feed the child, and went and lay down. The unfortunate little victim was made to drink freely of the coffee, and then started out into the yard to play, followed by the inhuman wretch. In twenty minutes Mrs. Levi was called by the negro to come and watch the curious appearance of the child, but scarcely had she obeyed the summons when she saw the idol of her soul give her one frantic gaze, and then fall dead. She had accomplished her nefarious design. Officer Charles Junot arrested the negro while she was in the act of packing her trunk and leave the house. The stomach of the child, who was near fourteen months old, contained enough arsenic to kill a hundred persons. Mrs. L. fortunately escaped instant death by not drinking any of the coffee, which this inhuman devil had prepared for them. She is in jail.

THURSDAY, THE day set apart by the President of the United States for national humiliation, fasting and prayer, was very generally observed in this city. Divine service was held in the respective churches, and nearly all houses of business were closed. The day presented the appearance of the holy Sabbath, and a deep sense of its solemn character seemed to pervade the entire community. We trust that the earnest supplications which, on Thursday, went up from the sanctuary throughout our diocese, will soon be answered by the return of peace and unity to the bleeding nation.

The following is a report of inputs for the month ending April 30th, 1863, the date showing when held:

Mary Hynes, suicide by drowning, April 2d.

Bridget Moran, accidentally drowned, April 6th.

Negro boy, John, slave of Henry Gore, accidentally shot, April 8th.

R. April 10th.

Theodore Peasey, accidentally shot, April 16th.

Name unknown, accidentally drowned, April 20th.

Thos. Dempster, suicide by shooting, April 21st.

Michael Conney, accidentally drowned, April 25th.

Wm. Pitt Watkins, accidentally drowned, April 28th.

Thiman Gosnell, murdered, April 29th.

Mardy Dryman, murdered, April 29th.

JAS. C. GILLIS, C. J. C.

It was noticed the other day that Capt. Wolfe, who belongs to the Fourth Kentucky cavalry (Col. Bayles), was arrested for being in some way connected with rascality and rebels.

We are requested to state that the said Capt. Wolfe is not a member of Col. Bayles' regiment, and the Fourth Kentucky cavalry preferred against him by Mrs. Golden.

This will be a golden opportunity to witness a scene in the Police Court that hasn't been announced on the bills.

We are requested to announce that the Union voters of the Fourth ward will meet on Saturday evening, May 2d, at eight o'clock, at Apollo Hall. Business of interest will come before the meeting.

We were shown a magnificent bouquet last evening presented by the young ladies of Pewee Valley to Dr. Wheeler, the clever mail agent on the Lexington railroad. It was rich.

The loyal citizens of this city are invited to attend the presentation of a flag at hospital No. 10, Walnut street, above Jackson, this (Saturday) afternoon, at three o'clock.

A train left Nashville yesterday with about two hundred and fifty rebel prisoners on board. The train reached this city last night safe.

Sixteen of the Twelfth Kentucky cavalry, sick and wounded, came in on the Nashville train last night from Lebanon.

W. Scott Glare is always ahead of the mail with Cincinnati papers. He furnishes us.

We are indebted to Mr. Wright for Cincinnati papers of yesterday.

For list of letters see fourth page.

HORRIBLE MURDER OF TWO MEN.—On last Tuesday afternoon a little boy who was fishing at a place known as Dutch's, south of Kentucky street, and between Twelfth and Thirteenth, discovered the hand of a man in a sinkhole. The boy called on officer M. G. Lowry, and informed him of the fact. Mr. Lowry repaired to the spot, when he found two bodies in the sink, covered over with water. Mr. Lowry went immediately for the Coroner. It was too late, however, to do anything that night. Early Wednesday the Coroner arrived and held an inquest on the bodies of the murdered men, but could not learn the names of the murderers. The bodies were taken in a wagon to the camp of the Fourth Tennessee infantry, when one of the members of the regiment came to look at the bodies and recognized one as his brother, whose name is Tilman Gosnell. The other man he recognized as Mardy Dryman, both from Green county, Tennessee.

Another man stated that he heard ten or fifteen shots fired last Sunday night, about 10:30 o'clock, at the place where the men were found, but did not suppose a murder had been committed. Gosnell was shot five times, two of the balls entering the abdomen, one in the left side, one passing through the right thigh, and one entering the back of the head. Dryman was shot but once, the ball entering the heart just above the left eye. The jury rendered a verdict in accordance with the above facts.

Since holding the inquest the Coroner has gained the following information from Col. Stover, commanding the Fourth Tennessee in Fantasy: The Colonel states that the men Gosnell and Dryman came to his camp without his knowledge, and that he had sent Woodard to his return from Duck river, and camped not far from Charlotte. Col. Stover, a number of his men, had been informed by one of the officers, a sergeant, of Woodard's force had increased and he had been made a Brigadier General. I scarcely credit the report and only give it as it is stated, as a source of information. A single regiment, a larger force than a single regiment, and I think that the war department at Richmond fully understand this fact. Two months ago his commission as Colonel had not been confirmed, and with sixty men of his regiment he had only four pieces of ordnance. Sixty pieces—fragments of regiments—have been consolidated and given to him for command. He has taught them well the first principle of war—how to skedaddle from danger—and I think that the Confederate forces would like to see how he handles troops in an engagement before appointing him to a higher command.

He is a quiet and unfatiguing friend of religion, and within a month of his death that he united with the church, and thus made an open avowal of his faith Christ—the crowning glory of his life.

Resolved, That we will attend the funeral of our late friend.

Resolved, That a copy of this memorial be sent to his family with an assurance of our sincere sympathy in their dear affliction.

CLARKSVILLE, TENNESSEE.

Thursday, April 30, 1863.

Mrs. Editors: We had a heavy shower of rain yesterday, and with the previous rain above the river is on the rise, with about five feet water on the shoals. A large fleet of transports went about.

Scouting parties pick up straggling soldiers every day and report them to headquarters under guard. Lieut. Brown came in from Berdon's Creek last night, twenty miles beyond the Cumberland. He brought three prisoners with him. A man and a woman, and a boy. From whom we could learn Woodard was on his return from Duck river, and camped not far from Charlotte. Col. Stover, a number of his men, had been informed by one of the officers, a sergeant, of Woodard's force had increased and he had been made a Brigadier General. I scarcely credit the report and only give it as it is stated, as a source of information. Abraham Hiltz.

At a meeting of the Board of Underwriters, held May 1st, 1863, the following memorial and resolutions were ordered to be spread upon the records and published in the daily paper:

In the death of Abraham Hiltz our city has lost an old and valued citizen, our country has lost one of the best and most ornate, and ourselves one of our best friends and associates. For many years a prominent and influential merchant, Mr. Hiltz was a man of great personal worth, of high moral and social qualities, and the many important trusts, public and private, confided to his management, gave him a considerate capacity and integrity. His manly and upright character, his frankness, giving aid to the needy and encouragement to the young. To such his purse was ever open, his services were always ready, and his advice often freely acknowledged; their indebtedness to him for their establishment and subsequent success in business, is well known. The eight last years of his life were spent in the service of his country, and he died in the full exercise of his functions as a member of the Legislature. A man of much energy and activity, he was always found his wife in concert, correct in judgment, prompt in action, friendly in intercourse, and a true and faithful companion. He was a man of great personal worth, and his loss is a loss to us all.

Resolved, That we will attend the funeral of our late friend.

Resolved, That a copy of this memorial be sent to his family with an assurance of our sincere sympathy in their dear affliction.
